

Day Trips

One of the most popular pastimes of Vermont visitors is "day-tripping", getting in the car and getting out into the beautiful Vermont countryside. Half the fun is the unexpected discoveries you make after intentionally getting lost. Just make a random turn down a road that looks like it might go somewhere interesting!

Here are some routes you can use as starting points for creating your own adventure: For route details and our favorite attractions along the way, please spend some time with one of our Innkeepers.
